The Near Approach of Congress—The Prospect for the Southern States.

The first Monday in December next, the 4th of the month, is the appointed day for the meeting of the new Congress. If the Southern States, therefore, engaged in the work of reconstruction, desire to have their members on hand at the organization of the two houses they must accomplish their work of preparation within the brief remaining interval of three weeks. The States of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Arkansas have elected their members to both houses, and before the end of November we expect that Georgia and Florida will have done so, leaving only Texas still under an unmixed provisional military government. So far, then, as the admission of the late insurgent States to their old places in Congress will depend upon the election of their members Texas probably alone will be behindhand.

But in connection with these elections there are certain conditions attached which must be met by the States concerned before they can be accepted by the President as qualified to resume their relations of members of the Union in good standing. What is their situation? They lately belonged to the rebellious league of the so-called "Confederate States." Under that rebellious league, by force of arms, for four long years they devoted all their means, resources, forces and energies to the task of an independent Southern Confederacy, resting on the corner stone of African slavery. They plunged into the rash experiment of war against the sovereign authority of the United States to make good their assumed right of secession and to perpetuate their institution of slavery. The redemption of the debts of their league incurred in this war was made dependent upon their success. Their armies, however, were beaten and dispersed their Southern confederacy collapsed, and the States concerned were thus reduced to submission to the Union.

In this condition, and in the absence of Congress, they fell into the hands of President Johnson. His immediate predecessor in the White House had made the extinction of slavery a war measure in behalf of the Union. Thus this Gordion knot of slavery was severed by the sword, while, with the downfall of Jeff. Davis, the debts and doings of his confederacy, and of each of the States as members of the league, and the dogma of secession which gave birth to their conspiracy, all went down together. The armies and fleets of the United States had made clean work of their branch of the business, which was the tearing down the Southern confederacy, root and branch; and it was so recognized by President Johnson.

With this clear understanding of their situation President Johnson assumed the task of reorganizing the late insurgent States. They were not destroyed, but they were in chaos. They had rejected their loyal State governments, and their rebellious governments had been put down by the strong arm of the Union; and so they were left without any local government whatever. We need not recapitulate here the progressive steps pursued by the President in his progamme reconstruction. It is sufficsant for our present purpose that he asks no more and will accept nothing less from the several States concerned than what they have justly lost by their rebellion, and what the Union has fairly gained. He thus demands from each of them as the conditions precedent to their restoration to the national councils:

First—As indemnity of the past, the recognition, in the new organic State law, of the abolition of slavery.

Second—As security for the future, the ratification by the State Legislature of the amendment to the federal constitution, prohibiting, for all time to come, the revival of slavery anywhere within the limits and jurisdiction of the United States.

Third—A clear declaration, as the voice of the State, that secession is a nullity, and that all its doings, debts and obligations are null and void.

These are the essential conditions, resulting from the war, from which the Southern States, directly interested cannot escape. There is not the remotest prospect that a solitary member from any State concerned will be admitted or recognized by the President as eligible to a seat in Congress short of the fulfilment of these conditions. His late instructions to the parties engaged in the work of reorganization in North and South Carolina, Florida and Georgia leave not a shadow of doubt upon the subject.

We have lately, on several occasions, argued in favor of the admission of the members elect from the South, by the Clerk of the House, upon his roll of members regularly elected. But unless before the 4th of December, or on that day in season, in some official proclamation from the President, the eligibility of said members is recognized, the House Clerk can do nothing for them. He an only say that he has no official information that any of the late rebellious States have been fully released from the pains and penalties of the rebellion. From present appearances, those States will be wholly excluded from the roll of the Clerk which will form the House for the election of the Speaker. After that election, under these circumstances, it is morally certain that the conditions laid down by President Johnson will not be mitigated, but will in all probability be reproduced in a more rigid shape and with additional exactions in the legislation of Congress.

Consulting their own best interests, therefore, the several State Conventions and Legislatures of the South engaged in the work of reconstruction will do well to fulfil, if possible, the conditions laid before them by President Johnson in season for a recommendation from him in their behalf on or before the day of the meeting of Congress.

There are about 580 prisioners now confined in the Tortugas.

ORD FOR NEWSPAPERS.

ip the following article from an ex e. It is true, and we commend it e ry man who has interest where hes es:

ng is more common than to hear pe talk of what they pay newspapers fo rtising, etc., as so much given in cl Newspapers by enhancing the va f property in their neighborhood, a ing the localities in which they a blished a reputation abroad, bene- such, particularly if they are mer- s or real estate owners, thrice the unt yearly of the meagre sum they for their support. Besides, every lic-spirited citizen has a laudable e in having a paper of which he is ashamed, even though he should k it up in New York or Washington. A good-looking, thriving sheet helps sell property, gives character to the ality, and in all respects is a desirable blic convenience. If, from any cause e matter in the local or editorial columns should not be quite up to your andard, do not cast it aside and pronounce it of no account until you are tisfied that there has been no more in bor bestowed upon it than is paid for. f you want a good readable sheet it must not be supported in a spirit of charity ither, but because you feel a necessity to support it. The local press is the power that moves the people.

New Skirt For 1866.

The Great Invention of the Age in

HOOP SKIRTS.

BRADLEY'S New Patent DU PLEX ELLIPT (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of DUPLEX (or two) ELLIPTIC PURE REFINED STEEL SPRINGS, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable SPRING ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Spring, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promonade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day wil never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2-ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps etc., etc, which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEST BRADLEY & CARY, PROPRIETORS of the Invention, and SOLE MANUFACTURERS, 97 CHAMBERS, 79 & 81 READE STREETS New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

PROPOSALS FOR CARRYING THE MAILS.

We publish below proposals for carrying the mails weekly to the County seats of this State, until the first of January next. We trust that persons who may be disposed to make proposals will do so at once, as mails are very much needed. We learn that ten dollars per mile will be allowed for this temporary service. The post offices on the various lines will be supplied, and it is desirable that postmasters be appointed at once. Proposals for any of these routes, and nominations for Postmasters, may be addressed to Gov Holden, to be forwarded by him to Washington. Persons who may propose to carry the mails must offer the necessary evidence that they will comply with their contracts; and nominations for Postmasters must be endorsed by loyal men, known to the Governor. Females may act as Postmasters, and there is no objection to appionting them.

The advertisement for the regular mail service in this State will appear soon.

We learn that the granting of this special temporary mail service is due to the indefatigable exertions of Dr. R. J. Powell, the State Agent in Washington, aided by W. S. Mason and W. J. Palmer, Esqr's. of this city. We believe that no such favor has been extended to any other State.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Washington Aug. 3, 1865.

SIR:—With a view to furnishing mail facilities. at the earliest practicable moment, to persons residing at and near County seats in the State of North Carolina, I have the honor to inform you that the Department on the receipt of reasonable bids for the transportation, will be prepared to issue orders authorizing temporary mail service on routes running from such County seats to the nearest points on rrilroads on which mails are conveyed.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
W. DENNISON,
Postmaster General.

Hon. W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor of North Carolina, Raleigh.

N. B.—By "temporary mail service" is intended service to December 31st, next previous to which time all the routes in the State will be advertised for re-letting from Jan. 1st, 1866.

NEW YORK DAY-BOOK
For 1866.

THE DAY-BOOK proposes to stand in the future, as in the past, upon the great doctrine that this is a WHITE MAN'S GOVERMENT on the basis of a FEDERAL UNION, and it desires to to be distinctly counted out of that class of journals which propose public clamor. It aspires to no higher honor than to be the organ of the great AGRICULTURAL CLASSES of the country against the public plunderers of all parties, who now, through banks, tariffs, taxes and free negroism, are striving to crush them. THE DAY-BOOK, or its substitute, The Caucasian, for four long and bloody years kept the flag of State Rights and Constitutional Liberty flying, at a great pecuniary sacrifice, in New York, at a time, too when it had no other journal to keep it company. It has not therefore, been printed merely to make money, but has chosen rather to be right and with the People, than in the favor of cliques and rich railroad corporations and be wrong with the few. It might have been better off pecuniarily but it would have been sadly bankrupt in principle had it taken any other course. It does not now mean to run a competition with Shoddy Democratic or Abolition papers, supported by political funds robbed from the people, and it warns the masses that there are many so-called Democratic papers engaged in the conspiracy to mortgage the bones and sinews of the farming and industrial classes to bond holders and capitalists, and surrender the old Union and the Constitution to the Mongrelists. It, therefore, calls upon all true men to stand by it for another year's fight with the Abolitionists, monopolists and public plunderers. THE DAY-BOOK is now generally recognized as the Leading Democratic Weekly of the Country, and has the Largest Circulation of any Published, Being the only New York paper of its class made up as a Family and Agriculturnl Journal. Expressly for Country, Circulrtion—With full reports of all the New York Markets

AGENTS WANTED.

We wish to establish agents in all the counties of this State as well as in all the principal towns and cities both North and South, for the purpose of procuring subscribers to the Daily and Weekly Banner—also, to obtain advertisements.

The Daily Banner has the largest circulation of any paper in Western N. C. and as an advertising medium, it is the best that could be desired.

We allow to agents acting for us 25 per cent. on all advertisements and subscriptions obtained according to our rates. They will deduct this amount and remit us the remainder.

THE PUBLIC MIND AT THE NORTH.

Ever since Mr. Lincoln was first elected President, the Republican party has been steadily gaining ground in the public estimation at the North, until it has overspread the whole political horizon. The Democracy tried a compromising plan and failed. They then inserted a war-plank in their platform and failed, and finally, they rallied on the constitutional Amendment, in opposition to it, until the resistless storm of Republicanism carried away their last foot-hold, in the late New Jersey election.

The success of the Republicans North is attributable to the same moving causes and influences, that gave power to the ultra Southern men in the South. In the North, the people regarded the Republicans, and in the South, the people regarded the Confederates, as the party of the country, respectively.

The War party in any country will always, sooner or later, bear down all opposition. It inspires the respect and engages the affections of those who compose the bone and sinew of the country. The people are apt to think that those who stand by their country and are willing to fight out its quarrel, whether right or wrong, in the day of danger and peril, are sincere patriots; and in a time of high political excitement, the people look with distrust and suspicion on those who cry "peace, peace" when there is no peace; who failing to prevent war, use every insiduous mean to disintegrate the military organization and spread the seeds of discontent and disloyalty through the land. They had just such men at the North and we had just such men here.

Owing to the infinite amount of suffering in the South, our failure to gain ground in the contest, the apathy of foreign nations, and other causes, our people fell more readily into the snare of these Iscariots.

No people ever in the annals of the world suffered so much and long-continued distress and want, as ours. Suffering, hopeless and despondent, they fell, or many did, into the trap set for them by these scheming politicians. This was the heel ot Achilles—in this way and in this alone we were reached—otherwise, we were invulnerable.

The material ruin that overspreads our once lovely "Sunny South," is the work of Southern copper-heads.

We do not mean to detract in anywise from the merited glory of the U. S. Army—their deeds of valor and heroic endurance, will illumine the page of history for all time; but we do say, that it is the first instance in the annals of history where an Anglo Saxon race, fighting for independence, has been subjugated. An instance of subjugation has never occurred when a free people fought unitedly for the same object, except ours. And we say to our people that if they have suffered in person or estate, or otherwise, since the termination of this War, as all have done more or less—that whatever of suffering they have endured or injury sustained, lay not the blame of it on those who would accept no peace other than that based on our independence; but let the public turn to those who in the great hour of our need and peril cried so lustily for a craven peace, and say to them "thou art the men."

The feelings of the Republicans at the North towards the copperheads is similar, and if they had failed, would have been identical with that of Confederates towards the so called peacemen. Their feelings towards us, might be greatly assuaged and softened, leading in due course of time to sympathy and reconstruction, but for the ill-advised taunts, and jeers of the Democratic Press.

They cannot expect us to take any part in their Northern quarrels;—they may fight it out: we feel no concern in the matter except so far as it bears upon our interests, and we hope that the copperhead press will, for the future, not attempt to justify or excuse our conduct, but leave the Republicans a little breathing time between the rounds, as it were, to enable them to take the second sober thought and of their own accord do us the justice that will come sooner or later.

The Democrats prefer to be keeping up their party on the State's Rights doctrine. What bosh, and nonsense, and miserable twaddle. We, here at the South, fully appreciate one thing as certainly settled by the omniptent sword; namely, that State's Rights are gone forever—that States are only States in name, and are no more or better than counties. —This talk of State's Rights is the shallowest pretext and the veriest abstraction, and has about as little to do with our practical concerns as Webster's Spelling Book or the Alien and Sedition Laws. Ah! Ben Wood, you cannot pocket us down here like you can your constituents of New York, for proverbially smart as ye yankee is, we are a little ahead of you—for we see through you and your profession in these piping times of peace. You never advocated, that we know of, anything more during the War, than Mr. Lincoln was at all times willing to concede.

Bridgford, Myers & Co.

This firm, recently established at Richmond, Va., we would earnestly commend to the public. It is composed of gentlemen of acknowledged business capacity. Mr. Bridgford is well and favorably known as the controlling and obliging business manager of the firm of Haskins & Bridgford, and lately of Bridgford & Co. The Messrs Myers are well known to the people of this community, and we can add nothing to their high character as gentlemen, and excellent business qualifications. They deserve success, and we hope that our merchants will give them a share of their patronage.

No News from the Legislature.

Owing to a break down of the mail train, due here yesterday morning, we are without any definite news from the Legislature.

The train broke down near Hillsboro. We have not heard the damage it sustained.

A Change in Form.

At the solicitation of many of our patrons, we shall hereafter print the Banner with four pages instead of eight. We prefer the eight page, but it is alleged that it is inconvenient to read, and in order to please our readers, we go back to the old style. The paper will not be reduced, but its appearance will be enhanced, we trust, in the eyes of many.

ELOPEMENTS AND DIVORCES.

The Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes:

An elopement which took place a couple of months ago has borne a disagreeable fruit. A young and headstrong girl, daughter of one of the "first families," persisted, despite the protests and entreaties of the parents, in marrying a handsome but rather wild young blade. She eloped, married, returned, was reconciled, discovered an incompatibility of temper, was divorced, and is again in the bosom of her family, in the brief period of two months. Rather a rapid experience, even for this fast age, for a young Miss in her "teens."

There is another case of a young and rather pretty female, who has, within the past two years, been married and divorced three times—twice to the same man. Taylor strayed off in Dixie, and fought for his rights with Simon Bolivar Buckner. Mrs. Taylor sued for divorce, got it, and consoled herself with a brief period of connubial felicity, wherein a Mr. Frazier was party of the first part. Taylor, having fixed up the matter of his rights, came up to look after his matrimonial interests. He prevailed on Mrs. Taylor, that had been Mrs. Frazier, that she should again seek the intervention of the courts, which she did successfully, turning poor Frazier out in the cold, and again marrying Taylor.

The last marriage proved incompatible, and the gay and festive lady soon managed to obtain a third divorce, leaving Taylor and Frazier to console themselves with a mutual recital to large circles of sympathising friends of these extraordinary freaks of Eros, while the lady is sharply on the lookout for No. 4. Such is life in Indianapolis. This chapter in history is a sad commentary on the looseness of the marital bonds, and the extraordinary facility with which restive bondmen and bondwomen are released from the galling chains of matrimonial bondage—if chains which set so lightly can be said to gall. It shows the state of affairs which some years ago made Indiana the Eldorado of discontented married folks has not yet been entirely done away with.

Writs of scira facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of 5 cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate on interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required, and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed, should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

RESTORATION.—The Washington correspondent of the New York World, says that a bill has been drawn up in Washington, for presentation to Congress on the first day of the session, proposing a new scheme of restoration. It provides for the appointment by the President of a Governor for each State lately in rebellion. The Governor so appointed is to have the power of the appointment of all executive and judicial officers within the State, according to the laws of the State in force at the time of his entering into office, except such laws or enactments as may have been passed by a Legislature recognizing, and co operating with, the Confederate Government after the passage of the ordinance of secession in such State. The Governor is further authorized to organize courts in accordance with the said laws of the State. All of his proclamations are to have the same force as the laws. He is to open a registry, where all qualified voters can be registered on taking a stringent oath of allegiance. They are then to elect legislators, who are to prepare a constitution, on which Congress is to decide. If adopted by Congress, all military restrictions on said State is to be abandoned.

The World is not a Radical journal, but, on the contrary, supports the President's policy of reconstruction. If the above report of its correspondent be true, then, indeed, will the Southern States be reduced to the condition of mere territories.

THE WAR IN HAYTI.

At the date of latest accounts the rebels still held the town of Cape Haytien, and a daily exchange of fire was kept up between them and the besiegers. The former had raised the blockade of the port by capturing the government blocking vessel. It appears that the English had been to some extent drawn into the contest through indignities shown to their Consul at Cape Haytien by the rebels. This affair is variously reported from different sources. One account says that the difficulty occurred by the Consul refusing to give up to the rebels certain loyalists who were under his protection. Upon this refusal they broke open the doors of the Consolate, seized the refugees and took them out and shot them. Thereupon the British gunboat Bulldog opened on one of the rebel forts, from which the fire was returned. During the fight however the Bulldog got aground, when her men being taken off in boats, she was set on fire and blown up, by order of her commander. Another account states that the trouble was caused by the rebels firing on a British vessel.

RAILWAYS IN RUSSIA.

The Nord contains an enticing description of the railway carriages now running on the Moscow and St. Petersburg line. It appears that for the trifling addition of two roubles to the usual fare travelers are received in brilliantly lighted saloons, around which luxurious sofas and arm chairs invite the weary to repose, while perusing the latest periodicals and newest novels, which are scattered on the tables of this saloon ambulant. When the hour of retiring arrives the valet de chambre conducts the gentlemen passengers to the tabagie, previous to their being shown their sleeping apartments, while smart femmes de chambre point out to the lady travelers their bedroom and boudoirs, fitted up, as the advertisement says, "with every modern luxury, including baths," &c. The tabagie on this favored line of railroad must realize the smokers idea of Paradise, so perfect are its contrivances of ventilation, and the thorough enjoyment of the cigar, pipe or hookah.

THE UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND.

Further about the Shenandoah—Captain Waddell's Letter to Earl Russell.

By the latest European steamers we have further particulars of the surrender of the Confederate cruiser Shenandoah:

Landing of her Crew at Liverpool.

The officers of the Shenandoah were paroled on the 8th inst., and sent on shore at Liverpool. One of the journals of that city says:

Each of them brought on shore a large quantity of luggage, and they appeared to have no lack of money—facts which appeared to attest that their long cruis has not been unrewarded. The news of their arrival soon spread, and crowds of persons formed themselves into groups around the sailors and endeavored to draw them into conversation. The attempts, however, rarely succeeded, and when they did, it was evident that the men spoke rather to evade curiosty than to satisfy it. The men indeed, appeared to be themselves quite in the dark as to their position, and though under the impression that they had done with the Shenandoah for good and all, appeared to labor under a fear of committing themselves or their officers by some rash statement. Some of them eagerly questioned the bystanders as to what the English people tho't of the Shenandoah, and two or three of them expressed the greatest surprise that the officers of that vessel should ever have been suspected of pursuing their work of destruction with a knowledge of the termination of the war. The men speak freely of the circumstances which led the Shenandoah to terminate her privateering career; namely, the meeting with the ship Barracouta, which the crew are unanimous in alleging as the first source thro' which reliable information was received of the termination of the war. Many of the crew of the Shenandoah are Liverpool men, and these, immediately on being landed, drove off to their homes. Of the others, a few went to private boarding houses, and several went to the Sailors home. They were paid off in American dollars

Letter from Capt. Waddell.

The following is an extract from Capt. Waddell's letter to Earl Russell.

"In obedience to orders, I found myself in the Arctic and Ochotsk seas, far removed from the ordinary channels of commerce, and in consequence of this awkward circumstance I was engaged in acts of war until the 18th of June. I was ignorant of the reverses suffered by the Confederates, and the total obliteration of the Government under which I acted. I received the first intelligence of the downfall of the Confederate cause on the second day of August from the British bark Barracuta, and desisted immediately from further acts of war until I could communicate with an European port and learn if the intelligence was true. I could not have been sensible that the tales told by the American ships were true, but merely upon the statement of a British captain, I diligently sought for a precedent in the law-writers for guidance in the future control, management and final disposal of the vessel, but found none. Finding the authorities questionable under which I acted, I immediately ceased cruising and shaped her course for the Atlantic. I did not feel justified in destroying the vessel; but on the contrary thought the ship should revert to the American government. I therefore sought Liverpool to learn the news, and if not without foundation to surrender the ship, with her guns stores and apparel complete, to the British government for such disposition as it should deem proper.

FISH &c.

It will be seen by reference to Dr. John F. Foard's card in this paper that he, having located himself at New Berne, N. C. as a Commission & Forwarding Merchant, is prepared to furnish Guano and fish oil to farmers and tanners. Those who may favor Dr. Foard with their orders will find him prompt and reliable. As a practical business man, he has few superiors.

Now is the season for salt water fish, and we think that some enterprising individual should send on their orders at once, and supply our market with fresh fish right from the coast.

Maj. Ben. Le Fever.

We are pleased to learn that our friend, Maj. Le Fever, formerly of the 50th Ohio, and who is so favorable remembered for his fairness and kindness while Judge Advocate of the first Military Commission, as well as for his amiable disposition and agreeable manners, has been elected to the Ohio Legislature, on the butternut ticket, by over 500 majority.

Imagine that we shake your hand, Major.

We refer, reader, to your teeth. Be careful. Next to your eyes, your teeth are the most precious of your facial organs. Use the Fragrant Sozodont. It will at once arrest decay and prevent what are now, but mere specks from being orifices. In brief, it will save and beautify your teeth. And it is the only thing that can save them. Reflect on this.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina met in Raleigh on Monday morning. Mr. Wiggins of Warren, called the body to order, and Thos, I. Faison of Sampson, was requested to act as Secretary.

The list of Senators was called. When the 30th was reached Mr. Graham stated that he brought to the attention of the President the fact of his election by the people of Orange, but that as yet he had not received his pardon.—While this impediment, to his taking his seat existed, he should not offer to take part in its proceedings.

On motion of Mr. Wiggins, the Senate proceeded to ballot for Speaker. Mr. Whitford placed in nomination Col. D. D. Ferebee, Mr. J. M. Leach nominated Mr. Thos. Settle. After two ineffectual ballots the Senate adjourned. We will know to morrow who is to be the presiding officer, and the appointments of the various committees.

In the House, Mr. Waugh of Surry, nominated Mr. Sam'l. A. Phillips of Orange for Speaker. There being no opposition, Mr. P. was elected by acclamation. Mr. Lyon of Granville, nominated for Principal clerk, Col. Ed. Cantwell of Wake, Mr. Blackmer of Rowan, Major Seaton Gales, Mr. Gales was elected: Giles 72; Cantwell 24.

For assistant clerk, Mr. Rayner nominated T. H. Hill, Mr. Henry, Col. W. M. Hardy. Mr. Hardy was elected. Hill 29: Hardy 73. After completing its organization, the House, on motion of Mr. Waugh adjourned until eleven o'clock the next day.—Charlotte Times.

NOTICE.

MODEL SEWING MACHINE.

(From the New York Herald)

Prominent among the mechanical triumphs of this most igenious age, common honesty compels us to notice the Empire Sewing Machine, commended as justly styled perfection itself. Useful as have been the various sewing machines, from time to time presented to the public, each one of them has been cursed with some radical defect, which detracts from general utility. Warned by the experience of his predecessors, the inventor of the Empire Machine has produced an instrument, combining all the advantags for which others are vaunted, and obviating every defect which can be attributed to them by the most fastidious critic.

The Empire Machine is a marvellous combination of simplicity, economy and perfect workmanship, being durable, free from liability to get out of order, noiseless and easy of operation, its mechanical contrivance is such as to secure stability, freedom from accident and accuracy as to workmanship. By the use of the patented shuttle and straight needle, it makes a stitch, which can neither rip nor ravel, at the same time, it can operate perfectly upon every species of material from leather to cambric, with threads of cotton, linen or silk, from the finest to the coarsest number.

As the Empire Machine is gradually supplanting its more antique rivals, no one in want of a useful instrument of this description, be he or she tailor, coachmaker, dressmaker or seamstress, can do otherwise than secure one of these economical and inimitable machines, suited alike for family and manufacturing purposes. The office of the Empire Manufacturing Co. is at No. 536 Broadway, New York City, where they are now supplying these Empire Machines at prices far below the real value of the instrument.—New York Herald.

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, proposes to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in this enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in the grave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving [illegible] of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instructors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief illustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitious one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the disappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constitutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe, in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he was forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of giving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with [illegible] that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. It calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscription, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three-quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, promptly to chastise abuses, and ambitious to defend and adorn the civilization and literature of the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond paper.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c., taken from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War" now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect naratives which have been written and published in the Northern press.

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

All letters and communications of every character should be addressed to

Also, immediately, twenty active and enterprising men to travel and canvass for the paper—a fine chance for men out of employment. H. R. P.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday 2d January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

THE FARMER,

A MONTHLY JOURNAL,

DEVOTED TO AGRICULTURE, HORTICULTURE, THE AUXILIARY MECHANIC ARTS, AND TO HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY.

To be Published at Richmond, Va.

The undersigned propose to publish in this city—commencing in January, 1866—a monthly Journal to be styled "THE FARMER," whose pages shall be devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, the auxiliary Mechanic Arts and to Household Economy. A Journal which shall faithfully and successfully represent these cardinal interests by the dissemination of practical information & thorough, sound instruction, will supply a desideratum which is widely and deeply felt in the present exigency of our affairs, and ought, therefore, (we should think) readily to commend itself to popular acceptation, and command, in return, a remunerating patronage. "Faithfully" and "successfully" to support these interests, requires a Journal of the highest order of its kind. It is to nothing short of this high standard of public usefulness that "The Farmer" aspires, and to reach and maintain it, will be an object of unremitting effort and unsparing liberality of expenditure. It seeks recognition as a worthy organ of these cardinal branches of national industry, of which it assumes the special advocacy, and hopes to meet the requirements of the position satisfactorily to those whose interests are more immediately involved.

We are fallen upon times of peculiar and unexampled difficulty. The sudden and violent overthrow of African slavery, without premonition of its near approach, or preparation for the event, interwoven, as it was, with the very texture of our social constitution, has rendered all past experience with respect to the economy and regulation of labor nugatory, razed to its foundation the entire system of Southern agriculture, and necessitated its re-construction and re organization in accordance with the recent changes in our circumstances and relations. Suddenly launched upon a tempestuous sea of danger and perplexity without the polar star of experience to guide us, we must, as best we can, improvise the measures which appear at the moment the best adapted to the purposes of present security, and as calmly as we may, await the slow progress of tentative effort and empirical practice for the development of facts and the matured fruits of experience and observation from the careful comparison and generalization of all which, sound principles may be deduced for our future guidance and direction. Then will a new creation of order, harmony and beauty spring out of the chaotic disorder and confusion which now prevail. Then will the desolation and ruin which mar the face of the country be repaired. And not till then shall wholesome and stable rules and regulations control the entire system of husbandry, with its adjuncts and subsidiaries, and give force and efficiency to the administrative measures necessary for the conduction of all its operations to the most satisfactory and profitable results.

To facilitate and promote these important considerations, a good agricultural journal is an obvious necessity. A medium of communication, for the interchange among farmers of views and opinions entertained by them respectively on subjects appertaining to their common calling, is indispensable, and they especially need a vehible of intelligence for the transmission of the earliest notice of improvement in any department of husbandry, that, by a wide diffusion of such notice, the improvements may be adopted in practice and thus prove a general benefit to the farming fraternity.

Now, to sum up in a word: It is to meet this obvious and pressing necessity that the proprietors propose to publish the above described paper, and in behal of the undertaking they respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

The best talent, both practical and theoretical which the country affords, will be commanded in aid of this enterprise, and no expense will be spared in the effort to make the Journal complete in all respects.

It will be printed on good paper and with clear type, and will comprise thirty two pages of reading matter. An advertising sheet of capacity sufficient to accommodate the advertising patronage of the Journal will be added.

Papers disposed to exchange with The Farmer will send their papers at once.

National Thanksgiving Day.

Proclamation by President Johnson.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God during the year which is now coming to an end, to relieve our beloved country from the fearful scourge of civil war, and to permit us to secure the blessings of peace, unity and harmany with a great enlargement of civil liberty: And Whereas our Heavenly Father has also during the present year graciously averted from us the calamities of foreign war, pestilence and famine, while our granaries are full of the fruits of an abundant season: And Whereas righteousness exalteth a nation, while sin is a reproach to any people:

Now, therefore, be it known, that I ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, do hereby recommend to the people thereof that they do set apart and observe the first Thursday of December next as a day of National Thanksgiving—given to the Creator of the Universe for these deliverences and blessings. And I do further recommend, that on the occasion the whole people make confession of our national sins against His infinite goodness, and with one heart and one mind implore the Divine guidance in the ways of national virtue and holiness.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and six-
[L.S.] ty five, and of the Independence of the U. States of America the nineteenth.

FOR SALE.

I OFFER for sale a small Tract of Land situated on the N. C R. R, 2½ miles South of Salisbury. This Tract contains about 300 acres, more or less, 60 of which has been recently clared and is fresh, and new, and exceedingly fertile—a part of the 60 acres is high meadow land, and constitutes about half of the whole arable land now cleared. The meadow may be used for sereal or grass purposes, and is equally valuable for both. The ballance of the land is well timbered with virgin growth and convenient to a good market. There is also a "Gold Mine" of tested value on the same Tract, to which I propose to attach 30 acres or more of wooded land, which I propose to sell separately. I shall remain in Salisbury for two weeks, where I shall be happy to treat with any person wishing to purchase, after which time I shall intrust the sale of the above to the care of Col. B. Craige my accounted agent. The purchaser can have the benefit of supplying himself with 60 bbls of corn and all of the farming implements &c. necesary to conduct the farm.

For the trnsaction of a Shiping and

GENEARL COMMISSION BUSINESS

in this Town, West Side Craven Street, on Old County Wharf.

To the sale of COTTON, NAVAL SAORES, TOBACCO, LUMBER, STAVES, SHINGLES, CORN, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of

Real Estate and State and other Stocks,

we will give personal attention.

☞We are Agents for MURRAY'S NORTH CAROLINA SEMI-WEEKLY LINE OF STEAMSHIPS, between NEWBERN and NEW YORK and for Sailing Vessels for BALTIMORE, PHILADELPHIA, and other Ports in the United States, and for different Ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to those, there is a Weekly line of OCEAN STEAMSHIP on the same route, and a Tri-Weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeak Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ WE WILL MAKE LIBERAL ADVANCES ON CONSIGNMENTS,

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight or on any other business, will be promptly answered.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.

LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

New Volume begins January, 1865.

THE ECLECTIC MAGAZIME is as its name indicates, a selection from other magazines and periodicals. These selections are carefully made each month, from the entire range of foreign Periodicals. In this respect it is entirely unlike other monthlies, and has no rival. The following are some of the works from which selections are made:

London Quarterly,	Revue de Deux Mondes,
British Quarterly,	London Society,
North British Review,	Bentley's Miscellany,
Popular Science Review,	Cornhill Magazine,
Saturday Review,	Fraser's Magazine,
Leisure Hour,	Temple Bar,
Westminster Review,	Chambers's Journal,
Dublin University Magazine	Edinburgh Review,
Art Journal,	London National Review.

We have also arranged to secure choice selections from the FRENCH, GERMAN, AND OTHER CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS, translated especially for the ECLECTIC, and it is hoped this new feature will add greatly to the variety and value of the work.

EMBELLISHMENTS.

Each number is embellished with one or more FINE STEEL ENGRAVINGS—portraits of eminent men or illustrative of important historical events.

Volumes commence in January and July of each year; subscriptions can commence with any month.

TERMS: $5 per Year; Single Numbers, 50 cents. Five Copies, $20.

The Trade, Clergymen, Teachers, and Clubs supplied on favorable terms. Address,
